Opportunities and arrangements

The ethos of the Aberdeen International Youth Festival is firmly based on the exchange of culture and experience. As such we encourage groups, wherever possible, to interact, collaborate artistically and socialise. For example:

- On free evenings Festival participants are invited to attend other Festival performances, in Aberdeen, free of charge.
- Throughout the Festival period, we arrange workshop and collaboration sessions between companies, which can often lead to performance opportunities.
- Every night groups are invited to socialise and present informal cabarets to each other.

For a nominal daily individual participant fee (£36 approx) The Festival organises the following for each group:

1. Full board (3 meals a day) and accommodation at the University of Aberdeen (single rooms with shared bathrooms).
2. All transfers to performances and rehearsals, in Aberdeen and other towns and venues in Scotland during the Festival period.
3. All publicity.
4. The Festival assigns each group its own courier to accompany the group leaders and be the point of contact with the Festival organisation at large.
5. Professional production/technical crew is also provided for performances.
